

Getting Stuck

Are you stuck in life? Or, are you waiting on the Lord for an answer? Does your life look a little messy?

I am reading a book by Aveery T. Willis, Jr. and Henry T. Blackaby (On Mission with God: Living God's Purpose for His Glory). The other day in my devotions I came across a statement that made me stop and think and pray: "When you get stuck in one of the stages of development, one of God's ways is to make you uncomfortable by stirring your nest, readying you for the next move."

I write this statement out for you because maybe this will help you. It helped me see something. During our times of development and intimacy with the Lord we have to be patient. I hate to say that; but that is a spiritual concept that we have to deal with.

Just get close to the Lord and He will ready you for the next phase in life. You see you are not stuck! You are just uncomfortable because you cannot figure things out! He is very gentleman like: He will open the doors for you! When He does, walk through and enjoy the next phase of your life!
